

PRODUCTO™ SP-526

(formerly CIMCLEAN® MA352)

Parts Cleaner Concentrate

SP-526 is a highly concentrated detergent formulated for cleaning steel and aluminum under high-pressure spray conditions. This product is non-foaming, and finds application in extremely high-pressure water jet-deburring operations as well as conventional spray washers. SP-526 protects ferrous metals against rust and aluminum against staining. No additional corrosion inhibitors normally have to be used on parts destined for normal in-plant storage, transportation and use, or further processing.

SP-526 is a non-foaming, neutral cleaner with a pH less than 8. SP-526 is phosphate-free, contains no chelating agents, and responds readily to conventional waste treatment procedures.

Being highly concentrated, SP-526 is normally used in high-pressure spray washers diluted to 1% by volume. Concentrations of up to 2% are used to provide enhanced rust protection. It can be used at ambient or elevated temperatures. Under these conditions, SP-526 will readily remove coolants and machining oils.

SP-526 requires no special precautions in its handling and use. As with any chemical, however, we do recommend the wearing of safety glasses and rubber gloves when handling (see the MSDS for further information).
