

SP-216

Parts Cleaner Concentrate

SP-216 is a liquid detergent and corrosion inhibitor designed specifically for use in cleaning polished machined steel parts. Formulated especially for use on crank shaft and cam shaft lines, SP-216 leaves no residues which will interfere with electronic gauging.

The residue from SP-216 is a clear oil-free mobile fluid. SP-216 contains no inorganic salts to leave water spots and does not dry to form tacky soap residues.

SP-216 is intended for use in high-pressure spray washers at concentrations of 2.0% to 3.0% by volume at ambient temperature. This product will readily remove coolants and machining and honing oils and will not foam. SP-216 will provide iron and steel surfaces with adequate rust protection for normal in-plant storage and processing.

SP-216 is a mild safe formulation and requires no special precautions in its handling and use.
